On the first day of school Red balloon was scared, because he didn't have any friends. "One is no fun!" said Red.

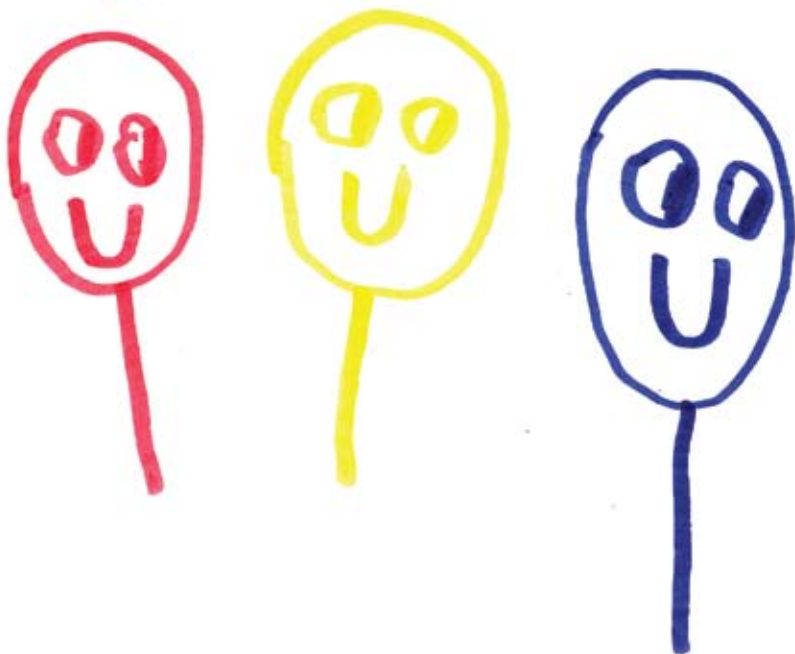

Then he met a balloon named Yellow. "Can I play with you?"
Said Red and then there were two.

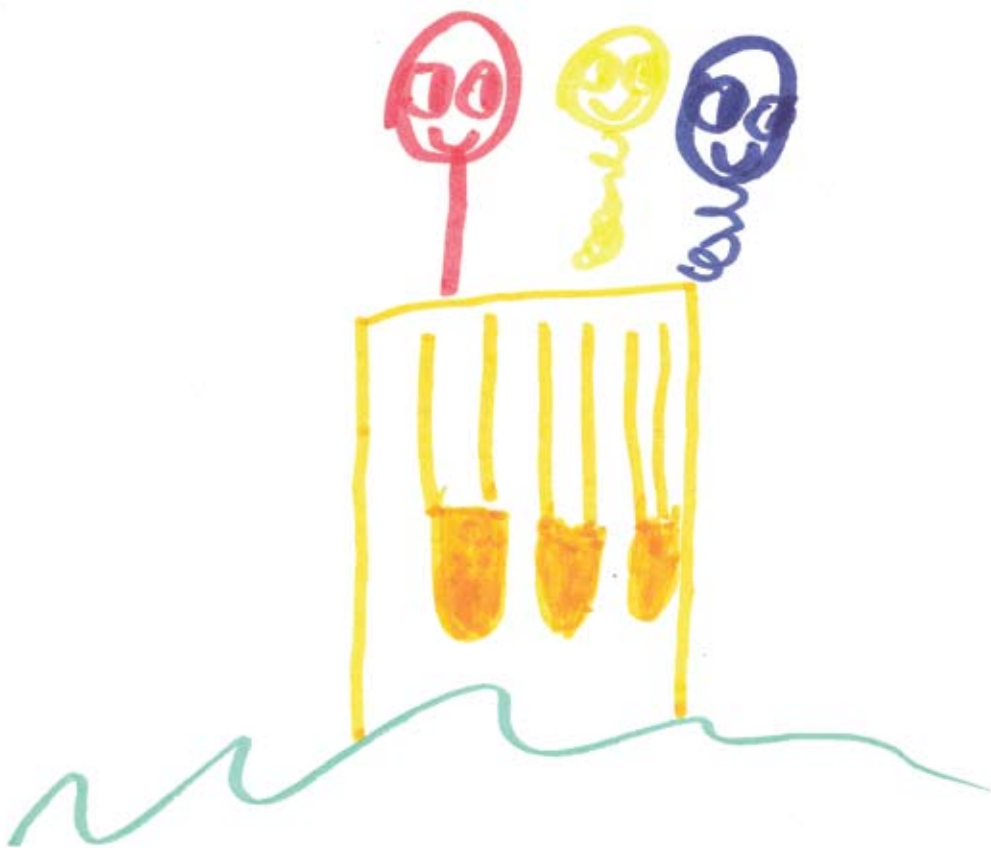

At lunch they met a balloon named Blue. "Can I sit with you?"
said Blue.

Lunch.

Red, Yellow and Blue were as happy as can be. When they were together they made the number three.

School made Red happy, because of his new friends.
Red wishes that school will never end.
